TOP AGENTS REAP AWARDS

MCIS Insurance agents honoured for their performances

By JESSIE LIM
lym.jessie@thestar.com.my

BEING on top of the world was what 250 award recipients felt like at the MCIS Insurance Annual Agency Awards (AAA) 2018.

The top performing life insurance agents were recognised for their outstanding sales performance for the financial year 2017, as well as their commitment and dedication.

Held at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Kuala Lumpur last month, the awards ceremony was hosted in style over an eight-course dinner and glittering, upbeat performances.

"We at MCIS Insurance truly appreciate the hard work you have done to become champions," MCIS Insurance Bhd chief distribution officer Ragunath Joe Murthy congratulated the award recipients and reminded them to cherish the moment.

The recipients were awarded across 27 categories and their comrades took up a notch in their applause by cheering them on with fan horns.

Coming in champion for the Top Chief Agency Manager, Top Chief Agency Manager (Gross FYP) and Top Group Life Producer awards was Datuk Mohamad Fazil Shafie.

In an elaborate yet stylish gimmick, he made his way to the stage on a chariot wrapped in gold fabric while beats of the kompong drummed rhythmically in his wake.

Previously in the army for 12 years, Mohamad Fazil has been in the insurance industry for 30 years, and has nothing but wise words to give to aspiring insurance agents.

"To be better agents to our customers, we need to be on call 24 hours. The service that we provide to policyholders must be excellent. We need to keep working hard to make sure they are always happy, not vice versa," he advised.

While everyone has their own kind of motivation, what motivates him to do better is his love for fast cars; every year, he would buy and add on to his collection.

The humble and visionary 55-year-old chief agency manager oversees a team of 220 agents, of which 103 also received awards that night.

He expressed pride and joy at being able to watch his agents grow into successful people, as well as noting the significance of a well-structured system at MCIS Insurance.

MCIS Insurance unit manager Baanu Mohan, 28, champion of the Top Unit Manager and Top Personal Producer categories, started as a part-time insurance agent at 22, and went full-time two years later.

"I have been in the top list since 2013, and what's different for me this time is that I had to juggle between taking care of my family and work. I'm proud to say that I did all that and still received awards," said the mother of two-year-old and eight-month-old children.

Baanu loves how this industry provides her the opportunity to travel, offers financial freedom and the flexibility to balance work and family.

"My advice for mothers out there is that this line is challenging but with the flexibility, they are able to take care of their family and work at the same time. It's all about time management," she pointed out.

Agnes Soosai, 50, champion of the Top Marketing Executive category, became an insurance agent in 1996, and turned part-time when she had to take a short break to focus on her three children, before joining back again full time in 2014.

What kept the marketing executive going then was to earn and save for her children's education, and the reminder that she was not going to limit herself to do more.

"Today, I can safely say that I have achieved financial stability for my children's education, and even for their wedding!"

"I'm also happy to say that while I was working hard, I still performed my duty as a daughter-in-law, mother and wife."

"Think positively and don't tell yourself that you have limitations. We can achieve so much more if we believe in ourselves as well as have our family's support," she emphasised.

Having just joined as a part-timer for a year, 50-year-old Tang Han Peng was crowned champion of the Top Rookie category. Citing his age, he pointed out that it is never too late to help people, and what motivates him is to give good service to policyholders.

"It is not just about the commission but to help others in getting the right protection for them and their families."

"Insurance is a lifetime business, and servicing client is not a one off," said Tang who owns a camera shop for 30 years.

MCIS Insurance chief executive officer Kobus Vlok reminded agents of the recipes for success of top achievers.

"The first element is to set goals and objectives because without them, one cannot measure progress and there is nothing that will motivate one to achieve."

"Secondly, it takes discipline. Success does not just happen by itself but takes discipline and hard work to achieve superior performance."

"Finally, the characteristic of tenacity. Life throws you curveballs regularly, things don't always go the way you want them to. But successful people choose to bounce back from adversity," he said.

Vlok added that the ultimate measure of success is not only in the sales numbers but also in the quality of service and advice insurance agents give to their clients.

"In this age of consumerism and digital advancement, you have to keep upgrading your skills and knowledge on an ongoing basis to stay relevant and keep your clients happy."

The awards night was even more celebratory when MCIS Insurance commemorated its parent company Sanlam Group which turned 100 years old this year.

"This event is an apt occasion for us to express our gratitude to thousands of Malaysians who have always chosen us as their life insurer of choice."

"MCIS Insurance received incredible support from Sanlam in the last four years of our association, and we stand to continue to benefit from the financial security, professionalism and expertise that this association brings," said Vlok.

Sanlam was founded in 1918 in Cape Town, South Africa, and has evolved from a traditional life insurance company to a broad-based diversified financial services provider specialising in insurance, financial planning, retirement, investments and wealth.

The Group has grown its international footprint and now has presence in 33 African countries, India, Malaysia, the Philippines, the United Kingdom, the United States, Switzerland and Australia.

Globally, around 92,000 staff members represent Sanlam today.

MCIS Insurance celebrates achievements of its agents with centenary of parent firm

By Karen Bong

KUCHING: MCIS Insurance recently recognised and celebrated the achievements of their top performing life insurance agents throughout the past year at its Annual Agency Awards (AAA) 2018 ceremony held at a leading hotel in Kuala Lumpur.

The annual event, which typically happens in the early part of the year, was moved to later date this year specifically to mark its parent company, South Africa based Sanlam Group's 100th birthday.

MCIS Insurance Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Kobus Vlok and Chief Distribution Officer Ragunath Joe Murthy were among the distinguished guests who attended the ceremony.

In his opening address, Kobus reminded all life insurance agents and awards recipients especially, the importance of sustaining the trust placed by valued customers on them and their advice.

"As you make your way up this grand stage for your accolades, my humble request is for you to take pride in the good work that you have done to deserve this recognition," he said.

Without continued trust of customers, backed by their steadfast parent company, Sanlam, he pointed out that MCIS Insurance both as a company and the authorised representatives would not be able to rise to its present state of strength and continue to be relevant to all Malaysians.

"Our senior life insurance agents as well as new and upcoming personalities who will be gracing the stage tonight, your success and recognition is not one that is yours alone.

"Your achievements are possible because your clients placed their trust upon your advice and the company to help them realise their dreams of a financially secured future," he said.

Kobus was also proud that their consistent top producers were guided by the philosophy that success is not a destination which aligned them well with the company's core belief.

"It is an enriching journey where every moment of joy and accomplishment only gets amplified as one traverses through the challenging career of a life insurance advisor, helping many Malaysians live a financially protected life," he pointed out.

MCIS Insurance is an established life insurer, with over six decades of history serving Malaysians of all walks, specifically people from the lower to middle income group.

MCIS Insurance has been a member of the Sanlam Group since June 2014.

Kobus also took the opportunity to express gratitude to thousands of Malaysians who have always chosen MCIS Insurance as their life insurer of choice.

"On the same note, it is a very befitting venue for us to mark the significant local level celebrations for Sanlam 100+ yes, we are truly honoured to be associated with a century-old parent company," he said.

"It is certainly inspiring to note that Sanlam, from its humble beginnings, dating back to 1918, has always been about an entity that was built to last, and remains committed to the same philosophy today, albeit being a multi-national giant," he added.

Elaborating, he shared that the devastating after-effects of the Anglo Boer War, which ended in 1902, led to seven men getting together to form an insurance company.

On June 8, 1918, Sanlam was registered to achieve socio-economic reconstruction specifically for Afrikaners in the country. From this initial focus, the company morphed into a business caring about all South Africans by the end of the 20th century.

It has taken the Group 100 years of doing things properly and doing them for good to get this far.

While its centenary year is a chance to reflect on years of product and technological innovation, looking after society and creating financial security for all, Sanlam is looking ahead towards the next 100 years - firmly committed to continue creating lasting value and enabling people to live their best lives possible.

"MCIS Insurance has received incredible support from Sanlam in the last four years of our association, and we stand to continue to benefit from the financial security, professionalism and expertise that this association brings," Kobus emphasised.

MCIS Insurance aspires to grow from strength to strength in the coming years, with specific focus on increasing the total number of authorised life insurance agents to achieve wider market penetration through enhanced customer service and innovative solutions.

The company is on a journey to reposition itself in the market, to attract younger Malaysians who are keen on an entrepreneurial approach to attain career growth and success.

In his concluding remark, Kobus called on their life insurance agents to intensify their fighting spirit in the remaining months of this year to give MCIS Insurance a strong finish.

Meanwhile, the top award recipients among others were Datuk Haji Mohamad Fazil Shahie (Top Chief Agency Manager - Gross FYP), Baanu Mohan (Top Unit Manager and Top Personal Producer), Agnes Soosai (Top Marketing Executive) and Tang Han Dan (Top Rookie).
